Any man who says that Wisconsin will go for Cleveland is in a condition to see snakes.

George William Curtis still clamors for Cleveland's election. O, posterity, thy name is not George William Curtis!

The campaign doesn't seem to trouble Mr. Tilden. His bar'l is headed tight, and the sage is enjoying the quietness of the Gramercy Park mansion.

The last batch of Mulligan letters did not seem to dampen the enthusiasm for Blaine in Ohio. At which the democrats are much disappointed.

A point that all voters should remember: "Democratic successes mean free trade. Free trade means 30 per cent reduction in wages. Reduction in wages means the panic and revolution."

The worse thing Headricks can say about the republican party is that, like a careful business man, it has by good management and wise economy, enabled the government to accumulate a surplus.

One democratic paper says "the hand that wrote the Mulligan letters will never write a presidential message." Neither will the hand which wrote the votes to reform bills, at the command of rings, ever write a presidential message.

The most valuable life of Cleveland is the one circulated by the anti-Cleveland democrats. It is the only life of a public man ever published in this country which is not open to criticism. It contains a little page, but the other pages are totally blank.

The Macon (Georgia) Telegraph, a democratic paper, puts in this objection to Carl Schurz: "Carl Schurz is being booked for a portfolio in Cleveland's cabinet. No cabinet with Carl Schurz in it can be satisfactory to the real democracy of the country." When the campaign is over there will be a stormy time among the democratic brethren as to which did Cleveland the most harm—Carl Schurz and the independents, or the moss-backed democracy.

If any one attempts to preach free trade to a republican, let the republican show him that under the baneful and pernicious system of "free trade" in England and Wales, as shown by the official reports, the number of people having definite and gainful occupations declined from 14,755,875 in 1871 to 11,187,564 in 1881, a reduction of 3,568,311. Compare this with the beneficent and prosperous results of the system of "protection to home industry" in the United States. According to the latest census reports the number of people having gainful occupations was 12,955,233 in 1870 and 17,392,059 in 1880, an increase of 4,436,826.

The former wife of the late Senator Sumner, who resumed her maiden name Mason after her divorce, is said to be engaged to a wealthy London banker. This will be her third marriage, as the senator was her second husband. "The wealthy London banker" doesn't seem to take warning from the experience of the illustrious senator. The greatest misfortune that ever befell him, was his marriage with Miss Mason. It was a worse blow than the well nigh fatal one which Brooks gave him in the senate chamber. Why? Because affection and devotion to the crowning glory of a woman, were as far removed from her as were the warm sunshine and the budding rose from the shade of the Arctic snow.

Wisconsin's peculiar political fossil is down in Ohio preaching the cause of Cleveland. The Philadelphia Press says, "he was present at the democratic meeting in Columbus last week, and grew eloquent over the claim that it was not brilliancy or magnificence, but honesty and integrity, that the people wanted. Exactly, Mr. Doolittle. The people concluded that you had too much brilliancy as a cotton speculator and too little honesty for a public man and they retired you to private life some years ago. If you will remain there and not try and thrust yourself into prominence, people may be charitable enough to forget you."

One would naturally suppose that after the shameful disclosure of the Consett correspondence, in which Judge Doolittle exacts money for his influence as United States senator, he would desire to remain quiet in a campaign. Doolittle is not the man to preach political morality.

If only half of the reports concerning republican enthusiasm in the south be true, the republicans will carry two or three of the southern states. It is claimed that the republicans have an excellent chance to carry South Carolina, and the democratic managers of that state acknowledge that Blaine will run at least 5,000 votes ahead of the state ticket. In Davis, Ashe, Wauquaga, Bamcoombe and Rowan counties, several democratic clubs have pledged themselves to Blaine although they are working hard to elect Scales.

the democratic candidate for governor. They vote for Blaine, because they favor protection and are opposed to the abolition of the internal revenue system which is being so loudly advocated by United States Senator Vance. As at the last election in North Carolina, where a full vote was polled, there was but 2,000 majority for the democrats, it seems probable the action of the protectionists' democrats may carry the state for Blaine, although the republican state ticket is certain of defeat by 3,000 majority. The famous "Black district" of Wilmington will give the republican ticket a good majority this year.

The democratic county committee of Abbeville, South Carolina, has published an address, urging the formation of "red shirt" battalions to attend campaign meetings and see to it that the county is made as solidly democratic as in 1870. The significance of this appeal is to be found by consulting the census. Abbeville county has a population of 40,315, of which 18,172 are white and 22,143 colored. It goes without saying that in any fair election the colored voters would outnumber the whites two to one. In the presidential election of 1872, before the red shirts were organized the vote of the county was republican 3,943, democrat 841. In the last presidential election, when the red-shirt policy was in full force, the vote was returned, republican 493, democrat 3,572. The figures tell the story. This shows what honesty there is in that portion of the democratic platform which favors a free ballot and a fair count.

A few weeks ago the New York Evening Post made a great parade and did much rejoicing over a proposal of one Stern Oxtendale, of New York, to give $10,000 to Yale college if William Walter Phelps would prepare an answer to the "Little Rock charges" which ex-President Woolsey should pronounce, upon examination, not discreditable to Mr. Blaine. "We need not tell him (Mr. Phelps)," said the Post "that a certificate of exoneration like the one proposed from President Woolsey would be worth more votes to Blaine than Steve Elkins and the largest kind of a campaign fund will be able to secure; but we may add that President Oxtendale's connection with Yale college, and interest in it, would heighten the effect of his condemnation, in case he decided against Mr. Blaine." Now that Dr. Woolsey has publicly expressed his belief that the charges in question are slanderous and announced his intention to vote for Mr. Blaine, the New York Evening Post scolds the "republican managers" for invading the ex-president's well-won repose to "extract a written opinion from him of Blaine's qualifications." Had the written opinion been of a different sort, the independent organ would have kept it standing in its columns and have delayed Dr. Woolsey with compliments. The admirable letter of the venerable Dr. Woolsey, will make thousands of votes for Mr. Blaine, and that is the reason why the democratic papers are kicking against it.

Newsletters' Grievances.
New York, Oct. 2.—One of the grievances which the national convention of newspapers discussed Wednesday, and which they hope to remedy, is that they are obliged to obtain some of their supplies through the American News Company instead of direct from the publishers. The committee on grievances reported that the contract system existing between publishers and the American News company, which imposes an unfair tax on all dealers, is detrimental to the trade in general, and that the fractional amounts added to the cost price of publications under the name of freight charges are totally unwarranted by the actual cost of transportation. The report recommended as the most feasible remedy the formation of a supply company in New York city, as the most central location, with a branch in every city and town in the United States, the supplies to be sold at uniform prices and to household dealers only. Resolutions were adopted thanking Star, Tribune and Sun, of New York city for their sympathy and support of the newspapers during the struggle between the publishers and the New York Herald, and after appointing permanent officers of the newspapers' national organization, the meeting adjourned to meet in Philadelphia on Tuesday, July 14, 1885. Stephen Richardson was president; C. W. Zeller, of Philadelphia, and John J. Daly, of Boston, vice presidents; A. P. Linn, of Providence, recording secretary; C. F. Robertson, of New York, corresponding secretary; W. H. Kaykendall, of Brooklyn, financial secretary, and John R. Suter, of Brooklyn, treasurer.

Railways During the Matchet.
Ocala, Fla., Oct. 2.—At a meeting of the Transcontinental Railway association here Wednesday a money pool was formed and continued until Dec. 31. The Central, Northern and Union Pacific, Burlington & Missouri, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, Denver & Rio Grande, Denver & Southwestern, Texas & Pacific signed the agreement. The matter of percentages was referred to J. F. Tucker, at Chicago, by whose word all parties will be bound without appeal. The settlement of the dispute between the Central and Texas Missouri roads and the California and Pacific was the way to permanent peace.

Sail-berry Murk Deceases.
London, Oct. 2.—Lord Salisbury, in a speech at Glasgow Wednesday evening, assumed a defiant attitude in discussing the radical threats to abolish the house of lords. He ridiculed the proposition, and declared that it would be impossible to dispense with the upper chamber. He would bring it to the senate of England were as strong and efficient a factor in legislation as is that of the United States.

Quelling a Mutiny in Burnham.
London, Oct. 2.—It is learned that in quelling a mutiny of prisoners at Mandala a few days ago, the Burnham soldiers set fire to the prison, and shot 400 of the inmates while they were attempting to escape from the burning building.

The Troublesome Boers.
London, Oct. 2.—Advices from South Africa report a movement to raise a local force to expel the Boers from Bechuanaland and restore English authority.

The Cholera.
Naples, Oct. 2.—There were thirty new cases of cholera here Wednesday and thirteen deaths. At Genoa there were seventeen new cases and eleven deaths.

Revenge of the Phylloxera.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The phylloxera is ravaging the vineyards in the Linn district between Coblenz and Bonn.

VIEW OF THE FIELD.

A Look Over the Ground Where the Fight Waxes Hot.

The Contestants in the Political Army Keep Up the Fire with Great Vigor—Dispatches from the Points of Attack.

New York, Oct. 2.—"Yes, my audience were apparently with me in sentiment," I spoke, said Carl Schurz, in reply to a question regarding the speeches made by him in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio during the past few weeks. All the meetings that I addressed were very large, and there was great enthusiasm manifested. I think the western people are taking a great deal of interest in this campaign. In each of the places where I spoke it was noticeable that appeals for integrity in the conduct of the government were warmly applauded. From what I saw and heard, and from the expressions of the friends of the republican party, I am not able to forecast the effect of Mr. Blaine's visit to Ohio. This is more assured by a campaign of unknown quantities, and no present the greatest unknown quantity is the Ohio elector vote.

"What chance has Cleveland of carrying Wisconsin or Illinois?" "The change of political feeling among the Germans of both of these states is certainly very great," answered Mr. Schurz. "The growth of this republican disaffection will depend largely on the result of the state election in Ohio. It may be fairly said that Wisconsin and Illinois are doubtful states, and the condition of affairs in Michigan I could not form much of an opinion. I was only in Detroit one day, and was told while there the democratic leaders have hopes that Blaine will lose the state in consequence of the fusion of the Democrats and the Clevelanders. I spoke in the largest hall in Detroit to a very large and enthusiastic audience. The people there as well as elsewhere manifested a strong interest in the question of honest government."

Mr. Schurz returned to New York for the special purpose of participating in the centennial anniversary celebration of the German society, which occurs next Saturday. On Sunday night he will start for Chicago, Ohio, where he will speak on the following night. He will make five other speeches in Ohio, and will go from there to Chicago and deliver an address in German. One week from next Monday Mr. Schurz will speak in Buffalo and will probably address other meetings in this state during the closing days of the campaign.

Blaine at Cincinnati.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—In speaking of breakfast on Wednesday, Mr. Blaine held a short reception and then was presented with an American hostess, upon which was engraved: "Good Luck to James G. Blaine." A visit was then paid to the senator's home, where Mr. Blaine was warmly received and spoke briefly. From there he was driven to the train, which, at 11 o'clock departed for this city. The usual scenes took place along the route, the party being warmly welcomed at each station. Mr. Blaine looked as if he had a good time. He spoke of his first visit to Cincinnati, which he said was forty years ago, and seemed glad that his journey was nearing completion and that he would have a few days rest from traveling.

Iowa Prohibitionists.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The Thirtieth Marshalltown Iowa, special says: The state prohibition convention met in this city Wednesday for the purpose of putting in nomination an electoral and state ticket. The attendance was large. The convention was organized by the election of Charles Hutchinson, of Ocala, as chairman, and R. K. Howard, of Albion, secretary. J. B. Blanchard, of Chicago, and H. Hall of College Springs, Iowa, addressed the convention at considerable length, urging the need of the prohibition party of this state vindicating their honor by placing in nomination an electoral ticket and a party ticket. The convention was harmonious and enthusiastic. The following electoral ticket was nominated: Electors—at-large, Samuel Boone, of Van Buren county; Joseph Storey, of Cedar county; Third district, H. M. Woodford, of Bremer county; Fourth district, W. R. Morley, of Clayton county; Fifth district, Nathan Boone, of Linn county; Sixth district, Charles Hutchinson, of Mahaska county; Seventh district, M. S. Grinnell, of Guthrie county; Eighth district, Joseph A. Reed, of Page county; Ninth district, Joseph L. Little, of Boone county; Tenth district, William Lewis, of Story county; Eleventh district, M. M. Olchiff, of Clay county. The nomination of the state and congressional tickets was left to the executive committee.

Cleveland's Buffalo Trip.
BUFFALO, Oct. 2.—Thursday is the appointed time for the first visit of Governor Grover Cleveland to his home since his nomination for president. Buffalo will give him a right royal welcome, and the demonstration will no doubt prove a great success. The composition of the procession, and the route to be pursued, are announced. It is expected 10,000 men will be in line. The governor will leave Albany on a special train at 1 p. m., arriving at 8:30 p. m. He will be escorted to the Geneva house by the Cleveland legion, where he will deliver a speech. The streets will be lined with over four miles, the length of the line of march. Artists are here from all parts of the state to sketch the parade and scenes. The governor will be accompanied by Cassius M. Adams, of Albany; Stephen W. Rose, of Albany; John A. McCall, and Gen.
